Essay about a book: A Peace to End All Peace

The book Peace to End All Peace describes the failure of the Ottoman Empire. The book also gives an account on how the collapse of the empire contributed to the Renaissance and development of the Middle East. The fall of the Ottoman Empire was brought about due to the partitioning of the empire. After the settlement of the French and the British powers at Istanbul the Ottoman government failed totally. After its collapse, it signed the treaty of Sevres in the year 1920. The Allies were the Ottoman Empire's enemies; they prompted themselves to make negotiations before the treaty was signed.
